WORKSHOP ON UNDERSTANDING & MISUNDERSTANDINGS OF JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS

A Seminar was conducted on 12th March 2022 on “Understanding & Misunderstandings of Judicial Proceedings” under the valuable guidance of Justice Abhay Oka, Dr. Vijay Chormare & Mr. Murlidhar Nale. One of the crucial aspect, that is the presumption of innocence, which ensures that individuals accused of a crime are considered innocent until proven guilty was explained to the students. This principle protects the rights of the accused and prevents wrongful convictions based on mere accusations. Along with this, Appellate process was also explained by them. The appellate process allows for a review of a trial court's decision. They explained terms such as due process, presumption of innocence, burden of proof, standard of proof, and the role of evidence. This session helped students to understand the rights and responsibilities of parties involved in a legal dispute. They also explained the steps involved, including filing a complaint, serving notices, pleadings, discovery, pre-trial conferences, trial procedures, and appeals. This enabled students to gain knowledge about the roles of different participants, such as judges, attorneys, defendants, plaintiffs, witnesses, and juniors in the judicial procedure.

SEMINAR ON HUMAN RIGHTS AND ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITIES

On 07th August 2020, we invited Shri. S.R. Bannurmath to deliver online lecture on "Human Rights and Enforcement Authorities." He explained that human rights are inherent to all individuals and are protected by international and domestic legal frameworks. Enforcement authorities play a critical role in upholding and protecting human rights by ensuring compliance with these laws and holding violators accountable. He made students aware about International bodies and mechanisms, such as the United Nations (UN) and regional human rights courts which contribute to human rights enforcement at the global level. These institutions monitor compliance with international human rights treaties, receive complaints, conduct investigations, and issue decisions or recommendations to address violations. Furthermore, the role of law enforcement agencies such as the police and security forces who are responsible for upholding and enforcing laws within a country was explained by him. In the context of human rights, these agencies have a duty to protect individuals from human rights abuses and ensure public safety without infringing upon human rights. He emphasized upon the role played by these agencies in preventing and addressing human rights violations, investigating crimes, apprehending perpetrators, and providing protection to victims. Proper training, awareness of human rights standards, and accountability mechanisms within law enforcement agencies are crucial for effective human rights enforcement.
