E-Granthalaya

A Digital Agenda for Library Automation & Networking

E-granthalaya, a library management software, is a complete solution for library automation. It has been developed by the Library & Information Services Division, National Informatics Centre (NIC), Department of Information Technology, Ministry of Communications & Information Technology, Government of India, New Delhi. The software runs on windows platform in client/server mode. The infrastructure requirements (hardware, operating system, database management software, internet connectivity, etc.) for using the software are specific. E-Granthalaya 3.0 uses MS SQL Server (any edition) as backend database software and VB.NET/ASP.NET 2.0 as frontend solution. Express edition of SQL Server is provided free along with e-Granthalaya software.

The software is made available free of charge to libraries under e-governance initiative of the Government of India. However, the recipient library has to pay the charges for installation of the software, training of staff and post-installation technical support and service.

E-Granthalaya is complete and integrated bibliographic software. It is user friendly. It covers the following modules:

Frequently Asked Questions on Constitutional Law

Q. 1 Discuss the salient features of Indian Constitution.

Ans. The Constitution of India is largest and most detailed Constitution in world. It originally consisted of 395 Articles divided into 22 parts and 8 schedules. The framers of Indian Constitution sought to incorporate the good provisions of all the existing constitutions of different countries in the world. Indian Constitution has borrowed Parliamentary system of Government from British Constitution. Framers of Indian Constitution incorporated provisions of 'Fundamental Rights' from the Constitution of United States of America, 'Directive Principles of State Policy' from Ireland, Power of Judicial Review to the Supreme Court has been taken from the Constitution of United States of America. Similarly India's federalism has been benefited from American provisions in this area. The Constitution of Canada and Australia have also been used to some extent for laying down some provisions of Constitution of India. The Constitution of India Occupies a unique place among the federal Constitutions of the World. This is due to its distinctive features. The chief characteristics of Indian Constitution are as follows :-

But till 78 the Amendment Act, of 1995 it consists of 443 Articles.

The Indian Constitution lays down the structure not only of Central Government but also of the States. The American Constitution on the other hand leaves the States to draw up their own Constitution. Because of peculiar problem of India like population, minorities, schedule class, Schedule tribe community peoples it had to incorporate many provisions.

2. Democratic form of Government. - The Constitution of India constitutes India into a sovereign democratic republic. It thus provides for the establishment of a democratic form of government in the country. Justice, Liberty, Equality and Fraternity which are essential characteristics of a democracy are declared in the Preamble as the very objectives of the constitution. In a democracy the Government
