SUPREME COURT OF INDIA
 Before: Sanjay Kishan Kaul and M. M. Sundresh, JJ.
 Criminal Appeal No. 679 of 2015 with Criminal Appeal No.180 of 2018. D/d. 11.07.2022.
Abu Salem Abdul Kayyum Ansari - Appellant
 Versus
 The State of Maharashtra - Respondent

For the Appellant:- Balaji Srinivasan, Advocate.

A. Criminal Procedure Code, 1973, Section 428 - Period of detention undergone by accused to be set off against sentence or imprisonment - It cannot be lost sight that when reference is made in set off for adjustment of periods, the reference is to proceedings within country - Criminal law of land does not have any extra-territorial application - Thus, what happens in another country for some other trial, some other detention,would not be relevant for purposes of proceedings in country - Thus, accused cannot claim double benefit under section 428 of the Cr.P.C., 1973.
 [Paras 50 and 52]

B. Separation of Judicial and Executive powers - Cannot bind Indian courts in proceedings under Extradition Act - Thus, courts must proceed in accordance with law and impose sentence as law of land requires, while simultaneously Executive is bound to comply with its international obligations under Extradition Act as also on principle of comity of courts, which forms basis of extradition.
 [Para 39]

C. Criminal Procedure Code, 1973, Sections 432 and 433 - Indian Penal Code, 1860, Sections 302, 307, 452, 506(ii) and 120B - Arms Act, 1959, Sections 5 and 27-

Questions and Answer Section - I

Constitutional Law

Frequently Asked Questions on Constitutional Law

Q. 1 Discuss the salient features of Indian Constitution.

Ans. The Constitution of India is largest and most detailed Constitution in world. It originally consisted of 395 Articles divided into 22 parts and 8 schedules. The framers of Indian Constitution sought to incorporate the good provisions of all the existing constitutions of different countries in the world. Indian Constitution has borrowed Parliamentary system of Government from British Constitution. Framers of Indian Constitution incorporated provisions of 'Fundamental Rights' from the Constitution of United States of America, 'Directive Principles of State Policy' from Ireland, Power of Judicial Review to the Supreme Court has been taken from the Constitution of United States of America. Similarly India's federalism has been benefited from American provisions in this area. The Constitution of Canada and Australia have also been used to some extent for laying down some provisions of Constitution of India. The Constitution of India Occupies a unique place among the federal Constitutions of the World. This is due to its distinctive features. The chief characteristics of Indian Constitution are as follows :-

1. Longest Constitution of the World - The Indian Constitution is lengthiest and most detailed of all written Constitutions of the world. While the American Constitution originally consisted of 7 Articles, Australian Constitution 128 and Canadian Constitution 147 and Indian Constitution originally had 395 Articles. But till 78 the Amendment Act, of 1995 it consists of 443 Articles.

The Indian Constitution lays down the structure not only of Central Government but also of the States. The American Constitution on the other hand leaves the States to draw up their own Constitution. Because of peculiar problem of India like population, minorities, schedule class, Schedule tribe community peoples it had to incorporate many provisions.

2. Democratic form of Government. - The Constitution of India constitutes India into a sovereign democratic republic. It thus provides for the establishment of a democratic form of government in the country. Justice, Liberty, Equality and Fraternity which are essential characteristics of a democracy are declared in the Preamble as the very objectives of the constitution. In a democracy the Government
